WITNESS THE BEAUTY OF GLACIER BAY

Glacier Bay National Park and Preserve is a vast area of southeast Alaska's Inside Passage. Stretching north of the town of Gustavus, the bay is flanked by high peaks, including Mount Fairweather, and glaciers like the huge Grand Pacific Glacier. Bartlett Cove is the starting point for forest and riverside trails. Wildlife includes humpback whales and puffins. Covering 3.3 million acres of rugged mountains, dynamic glaciers, temperate rainforest, wild coastlines and deep sheltered fjords, Glacier Bay National Park is a highlight of Alaska's Inside Passage and part of a 25-million acre World Heritage Site which is one of the world's largest international protected areas.

TIP OF THE DAY: Glacier Bay is legendary so keep your eyes open because you will never know what you will see.
